5. (Confidential - GLC) Talked to Clark McFadden, General Counsel, Senate Armed Services Committee, and asked him to check with Chairman Stennis as to whether the full Committee could be available on 19 February for a world wrapup briefing as requested by the Chairman. McFadden said he would check and let me know.

I asked McFadden if he had any idea who the congressional delegation was that is planning to go to Vietnam. He said all he knew was the President proposed such a trip but he did not know who might be going. I asked him when the hearings are planned on the supplemental. He said this is largely an Appropriations Committee matter which Armed Services hoped to stay out of but he believes hearings will start in a couple of weeks.

I told McFadden the Director was not satisfied with the paper on Vietnam that had been prepared and it is being completely rewritten. McFadden told me that Senator Sam Nunn is releasing his report on Vietnam today and it contains a list of recommendations of intelligence information Congress should have before it goes ahead.

6. (Unclassified - GLC) In the absence of Pat Holt, Chief of Staff, Senate Foreign Relations Committee, talked with Ellie Vogtmann and asked her to tell Holt that we would arrange for Richard Moose to look at the NIEs on Vietnam and Cambodia at Headquarters.

Later in the morning, Ms. Vogtmann called back and said Moose would be in touch with me directly.

7. (Confidential - GLC) Received a call from Bill Woodruff, Office of the Comptroller of the Air Force, who said he hoped the article in today's Washington Post didn't cause us any trouble. I said of course we weren't happy about it but realized that Senator Symington put McLucas on the spot. I said Symington does this because he says he is trying to point out the Agency has only a small slice of the intelligence budget in comparison to other intelligence agencies. Woodruff said they are working on a paper to go to Symington, pointing out that McLucas misspoke himself. I told Woodruff of the item in yesterday's Congressional Record by Senator Proxmire about having GAO audit the Agency.

8. (Unclassified - RJK) Called Margaret Homer, on the staff of Representative M. Caldwell Butler (R., Va.), and told her that as Miss [redacted] had suggested that the Government Printing Office is the appropriate source for procuring maps originally produced by the Agency.
